“Higan” means “the other shore”, it is an abbreviation of “to higan” meaning “reaching the other shore (of Nirvana)”. Conducted during the vernal and autumnal equinoxes when days and nights are of equal length, it is a service of reflection when practitioners should meditate on the harmony of nature and devote themselves to the realization of the harmony in our inner lives. During the week long observances, emphasis is placed on observation of the six Paramitas (precepts) which lead to “the other shore”. Paramita is the Sanskrit for “gone to the other shore”.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Norma Matsumoto

As I come to the end of my second and final term as Kona Hongwanji's Kyodan president, I would like to thank all of the mentors who have helped and guided me. I would like to thank those who have served on the board with me, giving precious personal time to guide the temple through various crises and provide meaningful services and activities for the Sangha and our community. The board creates a framework for our temple, like the contractor, insuring the 'house' won't fall down.

I would like to thank our youth affiliate clubs i.e. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Judo, Taiko and former 4-Hers and their advisors for being the 'doors' and 'windows' to our temple. You bring in Buddhists and non-Buddhists into our Sangha and are our link to the community we serve. I would like to thank our sponsored youth programs and their advisors i.e. Dharma School and Jr. YBA and their advisors. You are the warm rooms in our happy home. I would like to thank our BWA who cares for the temple's altar and keeps our members fed and refreshed. You are the kitchen and fireplace, which no home can be without. I would like to thank the Ikebana group and the Tea Ceremony group (I'm waiting for the ukulele group and the Mah Jong group) because you add color to our home. I would like to thank those who faithfully attend temple services and those who don't, but keep the temple in their thoughts, and members and friends that show up to volunteer their time whenever the temple needs them. You are the family in the home, caring for its maintenance, sharing the cost and filling it with life. I would like to thank Hawaii Kyodan for providing the roof of our house as it provides a minister to the temple. BUT HEY!!! LOWER YOUR MORTGAGE!! MOST OF US DON'T EVEN PAY $37,000 AND YEAR IN MORTGAGE. I'd better be quiet or there might be a foreclosure by Hawaii Kyodan in our future.

We are well on our way to being financially stable enough to tackle debts to Hawaii Kyodan. I am overjoyed to report that in 2015 we have paid our full assessment. I attended the 104th Giseikai, but walked away disappointed in the Buddhists in the room who decided to take out of the bylaw that 'all temples shall be represented at Giseikai (their reasoning is that small temples cannot send reps so someone else should chose a replacement; but it now legalizes sanctioning temples behind in their payments). They also passed a formal 'punishment' for temples that don't 'pay up' running for 2 years before sanctions take place. It was quite a contradiction to 'talk up' the Dharma and the Buddhist way of compassion, but the walk was exclusion and punishment. My only comment is: If this was listed as an accomplishment of the 104th Giseikai in the Star Advertiser the next day, would I be proud? The vote was 51 voting for these resolutions to 40 against. Before only 2 votes would be against...Morris and mine. Progress?

I would like to personally thank those who take time to read my, sometimes ridiculous, ramblings. I told myself to write these messages as if no one was reading them, but 'oops', many of you have commented that you have read and enjoyed them. Ha Ha, but the people I write about don't read and recognize themselves. In Gassho

A Remembrance of Colonel Ellison Onizuka

To the Family, Relatives and Friends of the late Colonel Ellison Onizuka and the Members and Supporters of Kona Hongwanji,

As you gather at Kona Hongwanji, on the occasion of the 30th Anniversary of the passing of the late Colonel Ellison Onizuka and his fellow Astronauts in remembrance of them, I am sure there are many who can still vividly recall the scene of the exploding Space Shuttle Challenger on January 28, 1986 which left us in shock and disbelief. For the people of Hawaii, it was sad, to say the least, as we lost one of our greatest home grown heroes. A local boy who grew up in rural community, but through education, perseverance, personal commitment and diligence went on to become a national hero as an elite NASA astronaut recognized by the world for his contributions and especially his encouragement to the youth to ever aspire for bigger and better things for the sake of humankind. In a message he delivered to Konawaena's Graduating Class of 1980, he said,

"If I can impress upon you only one idea . . . Let it be that the people who make this world run, whose lives can be termed successful, whose names will go down in the history books...are the adventurers, the explorers, and doers of this world. When they see a wrong or problem, they do something about it. When they see a vacant place in our knowledge, they work to fill that void." "Every generation has the obligation to free men's minds for a look at new worlds . . . to look out from a higher plateau than the last generation." "Your vision is not limited by what your eye can see, but by what your mind can imagine." "... your education and imagination will carry you to places which we won't believe possible." "Make your life count – and the world will be a better place because you tried."

As I reread his words and as a Jodo Shin Buddhist, the life of Sakyamuni Buddha and Shinran Shonin come to mind. These two individuals were, to use Ellison's words, explorers and doers, when they saw a wrong or problem, they did something about it. When they saw a vacant place in our knowledge, they worked to fill that void.

Sakyamuni Buddha addressed the sufferings of the world by sharing the Wisdom of Enlightenment. As Prince Siddhartha, he realized that there was a void (ignorance or lack of true understanding) and sought to fill that void. By virtue of his attaining Great Insight, the void was filled with the Wisdom of Enlightenment which continues to guide people to this day bringing meaning to people's lives. Shinran Shonin having experienced the Great Compassion of Amida Buddha shared the Nembutsu Teachings which has brought hope and joy to countless people for centuries. They are perfect examples of Ellison's words "Make your life count-and the world will be a better place because you tried."

It is this expression "Make your life count-and the world will be a better place because you tried" which lingers in my mind on the occasion of the 30th Anniversary. This, I believe, is Ellison's encouraging message to us. As we listen to the news, nowadays, we may feel overwhelmed and helpless with all the negative things that are happening around the world and even in our own Hawaii, but his encouraging words ring in my ears. Let's try to make that difference. Let us try to be that difference. Challenging, and maybe impossible, as it may be for me as bonbu/ordinary foolish being, I should not give up. Just as Amida Buddha does not give up on this bonbu I (Eric), let us not give up on ourselves and our world. Let us live life of nembutsu in which we aspire to cast off our negative qualities in grateful response to Amida Buddha's Unconditional Compassion and continually go to the Buddha-Dharma for guidance.

To conclude, I wish I could be there today in Kona with you all of you to remember and honor Ellison not only the famous astronaut, but a fellow Jodo Shin Buddhist, but even though I am not, I would like to ask you to please join me in gassho to recite "Namo Amida Butsu" in grateful response to Amida Buddha's Great Wisdom and Compassion which is reaching out to embrace all of us and seeking the happiness, in the truest sense of the word, the happiness of all life, all existence. Truly, how fortunate we are to have encountered Namo Amida Butsu or All-Inclusive Wisdom and All-Embracing Compassion. Namo Amida Butsu. Entrusting in the Buddha of Immeasurable Life and Infinite Light.

In gassho,

Eric Matsumoto, Disciple of the Buddha Dharma-Pleasure,

DHARMA-CON 2016 – "Touched by Kindness"

April 16-17, 2016

Honpa Hongwanji Hilo Betsuin Sangha Hall

By: Betty Takeoka

The Hawaii Island Hongwanji Council and the Hawaii Island United Buddhist Women's Association invite you to attend Dharma-Con 2016. This is a state-wide gathering of anyone (ages 12 & older) who is interested in learning and sharing the Dharma.

These conferences are held every other year and are hosted by various State districts on a rotational basis. Whereas previously they were geared to Dharma Schools only, now attendance is open to all Sangha members from temples throughout the State. This year, it is Hawaii District's turn to host the conference so it is an opportunity for all of you to take advantage of listening to keynote speakers and participating in various interesting workshops without the cost of airfare. It is also a great way to meet fellow Nembutsu travelers and exchange ideas or just have a great discussion.

Registration fees are nominal and varies depending on whether you would like to participate both days, only 1 day, a partial day, etc. (see form attached). For Kona Hongwanji participants, registration fees may be subsidized on a first come, first serve basis so you are encouraged to sign up as soon as possible. If you choose to attend both days, hotel reservations can be made at the Hilo Hawaiian Hotel. (form attached) You will be responsible for the hotel room charges as well as making your own transportation arrangements. Registration is accumulated per temple and submitted all together so please contact Betty Takeoka by the deadline of March 6. You will need to inform her of which registration fees apply to you and your choice of 2 workshops.

Hope you will attend Dharma-Con 2016! Any questions, please contact Betty Takeoka, email: btakeoka@gmail.com, cell: 640-1738, home: 323-2533.
