In 2007, Hawaii became the first state in the nation to officially recognize and annually celebrate the International Day of Peace. The International Day of Peace was established by the United Nation as the day of worldwide ceasefire and non-violence. The Hawaii Federation of Jr. YBA lobbied the legislature to set aside a Peace Day in Hawaii. State Representative Jon Riki Karamatsu introduced a bill in behalf of the Hawaii Federation of Jr. YBA. Governor Linda Lingle signed the bill into law on April 17, 2007. Peace Day in Hawaii coincides with the annual International Day of Peace on September 21.

Japanese Service at 10:45 a.m.
Speaker: Reverend Tomo Hojo, West Kauai Hongwanji Buddhist Temple
Sponsored by Kyodan

It has been a long Buddhist tradition for the faithful to gather in their temples twice annually, during the spring and autumn equinox. During these services they recall the Six Perfections--- Charity, Right Behavior, Endurance, Endeavor, Meditation and Wisdom, and once again devote themselves to the fulfillment of these practices as Bodhisattva, (a faithful disciple of Buddhism.)

OUR SPIRITUAL ANCHOR

by Bruce Y. Nakamura

What is our spiritual anchor like in our life? Our spiritual anchor must be the foundation of our life and everyday living. No matter how many stories a home has, if the foundation is weak and cannot hold the weight of everything built upon it, with the slightest shaking of the foundation, the home will collapse. Our spiritual foundation or anchor functions in the same way. Despite the building shaking a little or taking 'earth-pounding' jolts, if the foundation remains firmly rooted and unshakeable, it can weather all things.

Is this not also the same with the Faith of Nembutsu-shinjin given over to each and all of us for true- entrusting of Amida tathagata's great compassion?

Honen Shonin declared:

[My] Genku's shinjin is shinjin received from the Tathagata. Zenshin's shinjin is also shinjin bestowed by the Tathagata. Hence [they] are wholly one... Tannisho: A Primer: A Record of the words of Shinran set down in lamentation over departures from his teaching; translated Dennis Hirota; c1982;p 125.

Honen's (Genku) and Shinran's (Zenshin) spiritual anchor or foundation is the Nembutsu-shinjin of true-entrusting given over by Amida tathagata's Primal Vow. It is the basis and meaning of Shinran's assertion that Nembutsu-shinjin alone is true and real.

Shinjin is the vow-mind of Amida Tathagata's wisdom and compassion given over to beings so far removed from the life and teachings of Sakyamuni Buddha. It is "true-entrusting" the wondrous and benevolent activity of great compassion awakened in persons who utter the Nembutsu as thanksgiving.

This shinjin is not "two" or "three" or "four" and is not dependent on the differing practices or virtues of each person; This shinjin is One - the One dynamic vow-mind of Amida Tathagata's wisdom as great compassion given over freely to the beings of this period incapable of any practice whatsoever. It is..."the shinjin of the foolish person [I am]. Beyond this, whether you entrust yourself, taking up the nembutsu, or whether you abandon it, is your own, individual decision. Thus were his words. Ibid., p 59

As we dharma brothers and sisters pass beyond the Obon season into the Autumn Higan, we are reminded of our Monshu Ohtani Kojun calligraphy hanging prominently in the temple: "Jishin Kyo Ninshin"- secure one's own entrusting to great compassion, guiding others to the same pathway. Though we sometimes forget, each of us aspires to live with a firm of meaning, dignity and gratitude. This meaning depends upon always returning to its foundation - the basis upon which all that comes after depends upon. So for each and for all of us, we are reminded to return to our source of all life's meaning - the entrusting heart of great compassion embodied in everyday living.

Shinran offered a spiritual model known as "turning through the Vows" or Sangan Tennyu by which our spiritual evolution or pathway is informed by the 18th Primal Vow. The 19th and 20th vows remain as vital links that bring us into the 18th Primal Vow. From good works (non-meditative practices) through reciting the Nembutsu (meditative practices), we are brought into the great compassionate vow of the 18th Primal Vow - the Nembutsu of thanksgiving.

In other words when we consider deeply our daily living embraced by great compassion, no matter the self-reasoning and design we take to live struggling along life's pathways, we should also realize that they are deeply anchored in and lead to the benevolent heart of great compassion.

As we reflect through the Autumn Higan season when the climate is not too hot or too cold, we are reminded of the bodhisattvas's practices of the six paramitas for attaining enlightenment. They are: dana -charity; observing precepts; perseverance; energy; meditation; and prajna-wisdom. If there is any good that is possible, it is rooted in the great compassion - the ground and basis of true and real gratitude. NaManDaBu, NaManDaBu, NaManDaBu...

SHINWAKAI UPDATE: PLAN A? PLAN B? WHO NEEDS PLANS?

by Daren Katayama

Things don't always go as planned... and this was very true for July 23rd. That was Kona Hongwanji's Bon Dance date, and it was also tropical storm Darby day. Or, at least it was supposed to be. As early as the Thursday before, there were discussions at the highest levels about cancelling our bon dance due to the approaching storm. Safety is the number one concern; other bon dances were being cancelled; and Civil Defense was setting up evacuation centers. However, past history has shown a propensity for Mauna Loa to protect Kona from harsh storm conditions. And so with great caution and trepidation, we decided to tentatively go forward with our Bon Dance, pending weather updates and conditions. We planned for moving the event inside the social hall in case of rain; we planned on how to notify people about canceling the dance in case conditions were unsafe; we even planned on what to do with all the food and supplies already purchased... but, things did not go as "planned", thankfully!

On that Saturday night, our Bon Dance may have been the best one in the State! Most of the dances in East Hawaii and Maui were cancelled; and some of the ones on Oahu experienced heavy rain! And in Kona... the morning greeted us with a beautiful double-rainbow over the temple... gorgeous blue skies appeared as we setup of the yagura, tents, and lanterns... overcast skies came in the late-afternoon / evening during the Lantern Parade and Bon Dance... and it stayed clear through clean up and take down... perfect! This was the best weather Kona Hongwanji has experienced for a bon dance in many years!

Perhaps this is a reflection of our daily life... we can "plan" for many things, but life has a way of not following "plans". The Buddha-Dharma tells us to live in the present... to enjoy and appreciate the now! While we did "worry" about whether or not the night would continue to hold good weather... we truly enjoyed the bon dance as it unfolded! Thank you to REVEREND SATOSHI TOMIOKA for dancing throughout the night with your "Pokemon" mask! Thank you to KONA DAIFUKUJI TAIKO for your heart-pounding taiko; RANDAL SMITH for the exhilarating Zumba dancing; the Jr. YBA for the "ono" food; and KONA HONGWANJI TAIKO GROUP for the wonderful drumming to our bon dance songs! And let us not forget "EDDIE", Kona Hongwanji's Teru Teru Bozu extraordinaire!

Most importantly, a bon dance doesn't "just happen"... it takes a lot of effort by hard working volunteers. We initially were short-handed, and we put the word out for help. The response was overwhelming! In total, around forty volunteers came to assist... including spouses and friends of Shinwakai members; and even a visiting father-in-law! Drummers and parents of the KONA HONGWANJI TAIKO GROUP also came out to assist! And to all the dancers, drummers, and spectators, the night would not be successful without your participation... still coming out despite the impending storm!

We are so grateful for everyone's contribution in making this year's bon dance truly memorable! To all the volunteers and attendees, on behalf of the Shinwakai and the Kona Hongwanji Buddhist Temple ... "arigato-gozaïmasu" and Namo Amida Butsu!

Sharing Reverend David's "Minister's Corner" relating to Generation X published a few months ago in Mililani Hongwanji newsletter.

Minister's Corner

Confessions of a "Generation Xer"

As a result of the annual legislative assembly, I have been wondering what it means to be born as a part of Generation X. For those of you not familiar with the term, it is a demographic label given to those that were born in the 1960s all the way to the 1980s. In a recent 2014 Pew Research study, Generation X people were considered to be the "Neglected Middle Child" being that we are between the two largest generations, which are also the generations that differ the most.

In our generation, we saw music change from records to tapes, then CDs to digital music players like the iPod. We saw the rotary phone turn into the touch tone and then cellular phones. We were the generation that saw the first music video on an "All-Music Station" called MTV.

We saw on television the Chernobyl Disaster, the end of the Cold War, and we learned via Sesame Street. Economically, we are highly educated, but paid more and longer for college because our loans were at a higher rate than the generations before us enjoyed. When we graduated from college, we had no job, so many defaulted on their loans and ended up bankrupt.

Generation X is an interesting generation. The outcome to all the events in our lives has surely determined what we deem as important and how we set our priorities. As a result, we've turned very individualistic, cynical, and have disrespect for authority especially for the baby boomers, which sociologist argues, "made us this way."

One of the things that Generation Xers had to learn was to be adaptable. In being able to adapt our lives to include the Teachings into our lives, we see that the natural byproduct is living a life not only of happiness, but of appreciation and gratitude. When you really think about it, although much of the life of a Generation Xer revolves around the "self" and the "me", in adapting, we've learned to take care of each other and resurrect an old Greek concept and made it cool, we call it "Paying it Forward." I know many of you have benefited from this. Although we may not be able to afford it, we still do it out of the kindness of our hearts. This is called selfless giving in Buddhism.

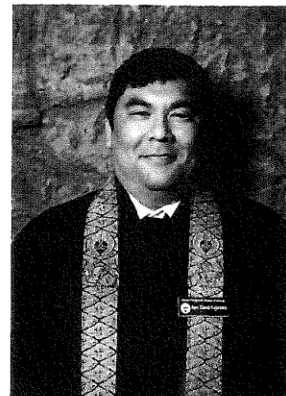

For Generation Xers, religion is at the bottom of the list. We grew up in a generation that went to church as young children, but never grasped religion, because we never quite understood what was going on.

I believe that the Teachings of Shinran Shōnin was made just for us Xers and the generations that have preceded us and will follow us. In his time, Shinran made accessible the Teachings to everyone, so that they too could find the comfort of being embraced in Amida Buddha's Infinite Wisdom and Compassion.

Even if we don't have time for Amida, Amida always has time for us. In the writings of Shinran, he states, "Although I too am within Amida's grasp, blind passions obstruct my eyes and I cannot see him; nevertheless, great compassion untiringly and constantly illuminates me."

Coming to church offers us that opportunity each week to escape the world that obstructs our eyes and focus on ourselves spiritually and mentally. We should make every effort to be able to celebrate the working of Amida Buddha and express the Teachings through Sūtra chanting, celebrating the teaching by singing Buddha's Praises, hear the Buddha's Teachings through our shared experiences, and most importantly, take care of ourselves and our loved ones.

Often I joke that I too don't go to church on Sundays, because I have to work. However, I do cherish going to church services when I can not only hear the messages of my fellow ministers, but also others that share in our journey on the road of the Nembutsu.

TAIKO GROUP NEWS

It has been a wonderful bon season. We will have performed at 8 bon dances this year. From Obon Festival at Keauhou Shopping Center to Kēēi Buddhist Church to Kona Daifukuji Soto Mission to Kona Hongwanji (and we dodged Tropical Storm Darby too!) to Pāaūilo Kongōōji Mission to Kona Koyasan Daishiji Mission to Lānihau Shopping Center to Kamuela Hongwanji Mission. Wow! Thanks goes out to all the members, families, and friends for coming to help us with all the equipment (transport of drums and PA system and Yagura (building & taking down) at most events. Without their support, we could not do it alone. Thank you also to all the dancers who come to practice and the dances, rain or shine or humidity, won't stop them from dancing.

Thank you to JORDAN CIRIAKO, DAREN KATAYAMA, and AKEMI IWAMOTO for choreographing the performance with the Kona Daifukuji Taiko Group, Kaze no Yuibito, at the Kona Hongwanji Bon dance and the "Nintendo" compilation with the other members of the Kona Hongwanji Taiko Group as characters of the Nintendo video games.

At our July meeting, we nominated and elected our 2016 – 2017 Officers, they are:

CUB SCOUTS PACK 12

Recruiting

Kick off for recruiting new scouts was at Konawaena Elementary School's meet & greet on July 29th. Cub Master Glenn worked hard at offering scouting as a program option to learn good citizenship and lifetime skills. Glenn had set up a table with information and posters of Pack 12's previous scouting adventures. There were several boys interested and they were invited to attend our very first meeting on August 1st.

We welcome the following new recruits:

Ryan Okagi son of Kenneth Okagi and Erin Rene
Mason Nonaka son of Dylan/Monica Nonaka
Elijah Green son of Angela Green
Rhian Dagdag son of Paul/Luana Dagdag
Aidenn White son of Kristine/Thomas White
Keola Fukunaga son of Shawn Rodrigues and Earl Fukunaga

Pack #12 is continuously excepting boys between 1st and 5th grade. We are having a great time and keeping very busy. If anyone is interested in joining please call Cub Master Glenn Hirowatari at 322-2278. Meetings are Mondays from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm. Extended days Wednesdays & Thursdays at 5:00 pm to 7:00pm. Scouting is a year round program.

Picnic Day

On Saturday August 6th we held a "getting to know everyone" picnic at Old Airport park. This was a perfect opportunity for the new Parents and scouts to get to know our Pack. Our grill masters Wayne Sakamoto and Ben Ningeok-Ross grilled hot dogs, pineapple sausages and Louisiana sausages for lunch. Cub Master Glenn also provided potato salad, Chili and rice. It was delicious. Sharon Sakamoto made a delicious and refreshing mango pie dessert. Everyone stayed and help clean. The Scouts cleaned the surrounding area, leaving no trace. Everyone in attendance had a great time swimming and talking stories.

Upcoming Events:

August - Induction night
Sept 19th– Recruiting Honaunau School
October 1– Pancake Breakfast fundraiser
