Subject: 2017-2018 Social Concerns Fund Drive

We celebrate gratitude in the month of November. The Thanksgiving holiday and the Eitaikyo observance are reminders of the countless blessings in our lives and how we live deeply connected to the world around us. It is in this spirit of gratitude that we begin our Annual Social Concerns Fund Drive.

Through the generous contributions of Sangha members, the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii is able to support worthy organizations and programs with funding to continue their work in our community. Your support also allows us to provide compassionate action during times of disaster and the ability to respond to social issues affecting our community.

Because of your commitment to promoting the Buddhist values of compassion and loving kindness, we are able to lend our support to such organizations as the Sunrise Foundation (Journey to Wellness VI), the Paoa Nikkei Jin Kai (Cemetery Renovation Project), the United Way of Greater Houston (Hurricane Harvey disaster relief), and various food banks on each island.

The Golden Chain Grant program was established to promote compassionate action through innovative community service projects. Your generosity directly helps those in need and promotes a more humane world.

Envelopes have been provided to temples wishing to use them. If your temple did not request envelopes but would like to use them, please feel free to ask as there are extra envelopes available in limited supply. Please make all checks payable to YOUR TEMPLE. Your temple treasurer will then make one combined check to the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii. The suggested donation is the cost of just one meal per person.

Your kokua is greatly appreciated. Please encourage your members to continue supporting the Annual Social Concerns Fund Drive. Mahalo!

Good morning sisters and brothers. This morning after the service, along with fire-experience volunteers, we will gather at the lower-end of the KHBT cemetery for a short service ending with the burning of religious articles.

This annual event collects items set aside by members and friends for proper handling and burning. An old shrine turned in for burning due to termite rot and age; Amulets - "omamori" given to members by loved ones in prayer sentiment during crisis or upon returning from a Japan tour; Religious items from other traditions no longer used by the family. Perhaps the most challenging point for the turning in of the family shrine and related items is offsprings' perceptions that the "Buddha shelf" is no longer a vital spiritual symbol that connects family from the past into the future.

Please note some of these items were imported from Japan and treasured as religious heirlooms to be passed on to the next generation. Pure Land religious symbols point to our deepest experiences of Faith (Shinjin as 'True-Entrusting) in the Buddha's great compassion. They should not be simply discarded like rubbish at the landfill. Respectfully accompanied by a short service, said items are burned together at service's end.

Citing Rennyō Shōnin regarding all human life in this existence, "in the morning, we may have radiant health, but by evening we have turned to white ashes"..., this truth and reality apply to even the most simple of things already joined by Great Compassion, no matter how seemingly small. Thus, our Eighth Abbot writes, "who neglects even a scrap of paper on the floor that may come to lead us to the Vow of the Buddha's great compassion?"

Of course for Shin Buddhists, the Butsudan or the Buddha's shelf is a religious symbol of our deep, abiding connection to great compassion through those who love and care for us in this life. What was the historical connection or basis requiring the "Buddha's shelf" (Burtudan) in all homes up in Japanese history? There are many pieces of history, personal and social we can learn and apply today. As readers and viewers of various genre, real and fiction - we are usually drawn to stories about winners and happy endings.

In actual human life and circumstance however, human beings are tested with trials as if the world was stacked against them. Some might wonder where we stand in the great scheme of things? Is there truly a loving God in His workings in his activity of humankind? Does He or She really care and how does that care come alive in the hearts of the faithful and His Christian community?

Silence as a whole is a fictional novel taken partly from Japan's historical backdrop interwoven with a story of two Christian Jesuit priests who must risk their lives to follow the command of Jesus during a period of brutal persecution. This takes place from 1590 into the 250 year period called the Edo period 1603-1868 during Japan's isolationism.

When Toyotomi Hideyoshi united Japan in 1590, this set off a dramatic shift in political, economic and religious changes in feudal society. He saw a great threat to Japan's fragile unity trying to counter the powers of the European "black ships" with their trade and commerce and the growing influence of the new Christian movement into Japan. And while trade continued, Hideyoshi sought to curb the Christian influence over the power and authority of his government.

Though laws severely restricted commoners contact with westerners, the government began a purge of Christian converts. By 1597, Hideyoshi ordered the execution of twenty-six (26) Christian converts. All of them were tortured, mutilated and paraded in public, then crucified for all to see as a severe warning in the city province of Nagasaki.

As Japan entered the Edo period, the persecutions grew still grimmer. The novel's author, Shusako Endo refers to the 1637 Shimabara Rebellion as a protest to both, unfair taxes and the Christian persecutions. After thousands of men, women and children were murdered - at least 35,000 by historical accounting, the uprising was suppressed, squelching the seeds of the Christian Faith and driving Japan's remaining converts into hiding.

Endo sets Silence about fifty years into this period of persecutions of the Kakure (hidden) Christians using the experiences of three Jesuit priests to launch this novel. The covert arrival of these Jesuit priests aided the hidden Christians left while performing Rites in secret without holy water, wine or bread. In all, the Kakure Christians are profoundly grateful for their presence and spiritual comfort.

As a historical point, Shinto and Buddha shelves were required for issue to every household by the government. This should demonstrate the loyalty by the populace to the native Kami and Buddhas and to no "foreign diety". The irony however, is that hidden Christians prayed to the vision of Mother Mary through the image of Kannon Bosatsu - the Bodhisattva of Compassion at their household shrines. In effect however, the Shinto and Buddhist clerics were ordered to serve as agents of the state keeping concise statistics of births, persons and family movements, weddings, deaths, etc., - literally becoming the eyes of the government keeping the populace in-check for anything suspicious.

In the face of such devotion and unnerving persecution, shouldn't God bless his flock by at least protecting them from harm? Jesus said he would be present for them, but where was he to found in the face of brutal persecutions and wholesale murder even for those now remaining in hiding? Wouldn't Jesus and the Holy Spirit sustain them in this life, while promising to deliver them in the Life to come? And how would Jesus judge those Japanese who rejected their Faith in the face of torture and death?

Author, Shusaku Endo with an unflinching sense of brutal honesty and insight, tells a story of two men who must choose between the loss of their lives or their Faith. In a very deep, and profound way, Silence is a story that challenge human circumstance and Faith colliding at the deepest parts of our humanity.

CUB SCOUTS PACK 12

All you can eat Pancake Breakfast/Silent Auction/Rummage Fundraiser Mahalo

What a great day it was to have delicious pancakes, scrambled eggs, rice, Denver omelets, Portuguese sausage, spam, smokies, cake, pineapples, papayas, cantaloupes and juice, tea or coffee. Yum Yum!

Thank you Corner:

1. Our cooking crew: Dylan Nonaka, Ben Ningeok-Ross, Tyrus Takimoto, Dale Kabei, Alvin Iranon, Dane Hiromasa, Carlo Mireles and our Pancake batter experts - Michael Nakamoto Wayne Sakamoto

This year our pancake and grill ace Cub Master Glenn Hirowatari was assisted by Mr. Chad Basque, Dale Kabei and scouts.

2. To all the parents and grandparents who donated items for our silent auction and rummage. Jennifer Ningeok-Ross, mother of scouts, Calvin & Jack Ningeok-Ross spearheaded and did an excellent job running that section.

3. Of course the event is only successful with the help of hard workers. The parents/grandparents of our scouts worked hard to help set up the hall, cut the fruits and guided the scouts in cracking the eggs Friday evening. On Saturday all parents helped out by either: cooking, serving the breakfast, selling & collecting tickets or being runners. And we are so grateful for all those that stayed and helped to clean up.

Also provided pancake breakfast's to HOPE Charity and Kailua Kona Clean & Sober House, which they were very thankful to feed their less fortunate clients!

4. Cal Kona – Brent Sasaki,

5. Honaunau Market –Carol Kiriara

6. Suisan – Mark Oishi

7. To all the business' that donated monies, gift certificates or merchandise towards our Silent auction.

Induction Night:

Saturday September 30th was our Pack's official welcome to all Cub Scouts and Parents into Pack 12.

First a Uniform inspection was held for all the scouts. The parents were more nervous that the scouts themselves. All worried if the patches were placed correctly on the shirts, if the neckerchief was twilered correctly. This was a great learning experience for all. Everyone learned to take pride in being a Cub Scout. Our very own Cub Master Glenn performed the uniform inspections. After the boys completed their inspection, off they went to partake in the vast choices of ono foods from a variety of salads, main dishes and desserts. While the scouts were having their dinner, they didn't realize that the Cub Master was busily tallying the scores. Scores are based on General appearance, Cap, Neckerchief & slide, Shirt, Belt, Pants/shorts, Socks, Shoes and Insignia placement plus a few questions to make sure that they know what is happening around our country.

After dinner all the scouts were lined up side by side and they were instructed to cup their hands behind their backs. One by one Cub Master Glenn placed a wooden nickel (indicates that they have completed uniform inspection) in their hands, BUT only ONE scout will get the "Golden Nickel". The "Golden Nickel" represents the scout that earned the highest score. 90% of the scouts had perfect scores. Glenn came up with tie breaker questions: Who is the governor of the State of Hawaii? Who is the Mayor of our island? Who is the President of the United States? Who is your den leader and most important who is your Cub Master? Only one scout prevailed....

Congratulations go out to Dylan Nonaka son of Dylan and Monica Nonaka.

Thank you to all parents for making such delicious array of foods for the dinner. We learned a lot more about each other during and after dinner.

Welcome New Scouts:

Jayzen Hanato-Wells. Son of Chaynece & Deja Hanato-Wells

Go See It

Several of our scouts along with their parents spent the afternoon on a sea adventure aboard the Atlantis Submarine. They had fun riding on the boat out to the submarine. According to the scouts the coolest thing was seeing two shipwrecks and to see all the fishes up close.
